INNIS ARDEN WAY
The Innis Arden Hill up to Greenwood is very popular with bikers.
The loop around the college and 160th leading up to that area.
At a minimum: Start at Aurora and go up 160th and then down Innis Arden past the campus to the park.
College kids walk up from the Sears parking lot to campus as well as North to South on Greenwood.
Parents and kids going to Highland Terrace. There is no walk-able path from Greenwood or the College to Shoreview Park. It is quite dangerous given the hills and curves.
Good example of cut-thru to help walkability - Also streets tactic (netting feature) closing a road (Pass-thru on NW 196th)
Good example of not a side walk but set aside area for pedestrians
Bad ADA accessibility
East side of meridian south of 185th - there is a section with a telephone pole & a tree almost next to each other, tight
Project Route
Between 145th & 155th - cars speeding at high speeds between main traffic lights
Higher density activity centers
