Shoreline development activity

MAKE YOUR WAY around Shoreline today and it is hard to miss all the new construction. One method we use to track development activity is in permit fee revenue. In 2017, we exceeded the previous high set in 2016 by 25%.

Here are some trends that help explain the strong permit activity:

Home remodels – In the past five years, Shoreline’s decades-long decline in household size reversed itself. Accompanying the shift to larger household size is a strong reinvestment in existing single-family homes. This demographic shift will continue to add residents to the city and students in its schools.

Educational facilities – Shoreline School District’s successful capital levy is resulting in a flurry of new and remodeled schools, and Shoreline Community College is realizing a long-held goal of building its first dormitory on campus.

In-fill – Because Shoreline is almost completely built out, most new development occurs as redevelopment of underutilized properties. Several lots along Aurora and in other areas of town that have long been vacant or underutilized are seeing such redevelopment.

Large apartment buildings – The region’s explosive growth is witnessing unprecedented investment in six-story apartment buildings. Large apartment projects are currently underway along Aurora and in the North City neighborhood. Permit activity suggests Shoreline will continue to see these projects on the rise.

Townhome development – When the light rail station areas were rezoned, we accurately predicted investment in the MUR-70 zones would lag behind the MUR-35 and MUR-45 zones. This is because profitability of the large-scale, 70’ buildings close to the Shoreline North and Shoreline South light rail stations is dependent on the stations’ mid-2024 opening. Meanwhile, existing regional pent-up demand for new housing is driving—and likely will continue to drive—strong townhome investment, especially in the MUR-35 and MUR-45 zones.

It is interesting to note that with all of the growth in construction activity, there has not been a corresponding surge in population growth. According to PSRC estimates, Shoreline grew by only 66 residents in 2017, or 0.12%, compared to King County’s explosive 2.3% growth of 221,451 new residents. Since 2010, Shoreline’s 3.9% growth also lags far behind the County’s 11.5% rate. This has largely been due to the fact that many of our single family homes have just one or two people living there. As these people begin to downsize and families move in, Shoreline’s population will grow.

Federal Legislative Priorities

EVERY YEAR, Shoreline's Mayor and City Manager travel to Washington, D.C. to meet with our federal delegation. These meetings provide an opportunity for our federal representatives to hear first hand about our priorities, needs, and concerns in relation to federal policies and funding.

Below are our federal legislative priorities for 2018:

Funding for the 145th Corridor from SR-522 to SR-99

To support the regional investment in high capacity rail and bus transit, and to meet the goals of a connected community and region, we must rebuild this corridor, including the interchange at I-5. Sound Transit will fund improvements to the N 145th Street corridor east of I-5 as part of the bus rapid transit project approved by voters with ST3. We are responsible for finding funding improvements to the I-5 interchange and the corridor west of I-5. Current cost estimates for these improvements total $82 million. The highest priority segments, those needing to be completed by 2024, still have an estimated funding gap of $16.3 million.

Planned improvements to this corridor will substantially improve the multi-modal accessibility of the corridor and the regional connections it provides. Locally, the interchange and corridor improvements are critical to the development of the area around Shoreline South/145th light rail station.

Support the federal funding commitment for Lynnwood Link Light Rail expansion

Sound Transit is seeking a $1.17 billion (38% federal share) Full Funding Grant Agreement from the Federal Transit Administration's Capital Investment Grant program for the Lynnwood Link Extension (LLE). Shoreline will have two light rail stations, Shoreline North/185th and Shoreline South/145th, as part of the LLE.

Create a new federal program to fund infrastructure for medium sized cities

Cities rely on federal funding to build infrastructure. We encourage Congress to strengthen, not diminish, the federal commitment and role in funding infrastructure. With sufficient federal funds, cities can demonstrate a substantial return on investment. We support the creation of a new competitive federal program for cities under 100,000 in population size that face significant growth or transit investments.

Support a permanent authorization of the Transportation Investment Generating Economic Recovery (TIGER) grant program

We would like to see the TIGER Program amended so there is a portion set-aside to fund projects for small and medium sized cities. The TIGER program is the key federal funding program for local infrastructure investments. Yet, all cities compete within the same funding pool, putting small and medium sized cities at a competitive disadvantage for funding even though the transit and commuter challenges are similar to those of larger communities.

Support the 2018 Internet Sales Tax bill, which is the Marketplace Fairness Act (S 976 in the Senate) and the Remote Transactions Parity Act (HR 2193 in the House)

These bills would create a level playing field for sales tax collection and allow cities to collect existing sales tax. The estimated net local sales tax gain for Shoreline is nearly $1.8 million from 2018 through 2023.

Continued Support of Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Funding

We utilize CDBG funding to support a variety of local initiatives that benefit vulnerable populations. Although Congress recently increased CDBG funding by $300 million, it does not restore the nearly $1 billion that has been cut since FY 2010. The City received $280,000 in CDBG funding in 2017.

Preliminary Sidewalk Advisory Committee Recommendations

ON APRIL 23, the Sidewalk Advisory Committee (SAC) presented their draft Sidewalk Prioritization Plan to the City Council. The Plan, developed over the past year, sets new criteria for prioritizing sidewalk projects and recommends funding options to pay for the sidewalk projects.

The work of the SAC has been an in depth and iterative process that included 12 SAC meetings, four subcommittees meetings, two open houses, two Council dinner meetings, the creation of a video about Shoreline sidewalks, and a Sidewalk Prioritization Plan FAQ.

Wheelchair users must often navigate through streets and bike lanes because the sidewalk condition is impassable.

During this year-long process, the SAC learned about the current Pedestrian System Plan and priorities, the condition of our existing sidewalks, and where gaps exist in the pedestrian network. Using that information, they developed new criteria, emphasizing equity and safety, developed measurable metrics to measure success for the criteria, and used the criteria to reprioritize improvements to existing sidewalks and construction of new sidewalks. They also looked at alternatives to traditional sidewalks.

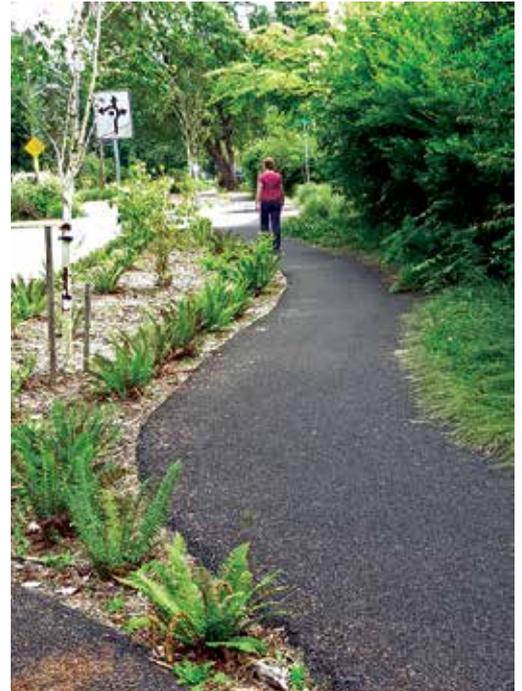

The SAC also reviewed sidewalk prioritization criteria for the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Transition Plan. They discussed known routes for disabled users and looked at barriers to accessibility. They also tested their prioritization criteria against known areas of concern.

Finally, the SAC studied methods to fund development of new sidewalks and repair of existing sidewalks. They looked at how the City might financially support the long-term delivery and maintenance of a city-wide interconnected pedestrian network. The SAC's motto is to provide "Access and Mobility for Everyone".

Highlights of the SAC's preliminary recommendations to the City Manager include the following:

- Use the prioritization scorecard and map
- Repair of existing sidewalks is a high priority
- Development of new sidewalks is important, but a lower priority than repairs
- Within prioritization levels; organize projects for efficiencies, ease of construction (i.e. quick "wins"), and distribution across city
- Communicate plans and priorities effectively and celebrate completed work
- Consider alternative designs with a "right solution – right place" approach
- Consider adding new streets to the Pedestrian System Plan
- The table below shows the SAC's funding preferences.

Activity	Sales Tax	Vehicle License Fee	Property Tax
Repairs/ADA	Prefer	OK	Don't Like
New Sidewalks	OK	Don't Like	Prefer

Alternative sidewalk designs are one of the preliminary recommendations for consideration.

Using feedback from Council, the SAC is preparing their final recommendations to the City Manager. The final sidewalk prioritization plan and the final SAC recommendations will be presented to Council on June 4.

The committee consists of members from a diverse cross section of Shoreline neighborhoods with a broad range of interests and backgrounds.

Serve on PRCS/ Tree Board

THE CITY OF SHORELINE is seeking one volunteer to fill an unexpired term on the Parks, Recreation & Cultural Services/Tree Board. The PRCS/Tree Board advises the City Council and City staff on a variety of parks, recreation, public art, and environmental issues. Meetings are held on the fourth Thursday of each month, January through October, and the first Thursday in December, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at City Hall. There is currently an opening for one adult member to begin serving upon appointment through March 2021 with the option to apply for reappointment to an additional four-year term.

Those interested in being considered must complete a Shoreline Community Services Application available for download or online at shorelinewa.gov/parkboard. Paper copies are available in the City Clerk's Office at City Hall (17500 Midvale Avenue N). Completed applications must be submitted no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, June 15, 2018.

Seeking Community Members for a Park Funding Advisory Committee

LAST YEAR, the City Council adopted the 2017-2023 Parks, Recreation and Open Space (PROS) Plan. The PROS Plan targets opening a new aquatics and community center to replace the Shoreline Pool and Spartan Recreation Center in 2022. It also includes strategies to make sure Shoreline's parks and urban forest keep pace with growth in the city. Over the past several months, we have drafted concept designs for eight Shoreline parks.

The City Manager is now looking to appoint 15 people to a citizen advisory committee to explore ways to prioritize and fund the aquatics and community center and park improvement projects.

All interested Shoreline residents or business owners are encouraged to apply. We will provide committee members with all the information needed to make an informed recommendation. No prior experience or special expertise is required.

The Details

The Committee will meet every three Wednesdays between September 12, 2018 and March 20, 2019 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at City Hall.

The goal of the Committee will be to prioritize projects, explore funding options, and provide recommendations to the City Manager.

Using input from the Committee, the City Manager will make recommendations on park funding to Council. Council will review the recommendations and make a decision on next steps.

Committee members will represent a broad and inclusive range of Shoreline residents from different community organizations and interest groups, such as aquatics, indoor and outdoor recreation, public art, ecological restoration, off-leash-dog areas, community gardens, active adults, urban forestry, youth/teen, preschool, special needs, inclusive access, and more.

SHORELINE'S BEST KEPT SECRET

DID YOU KNOW that Shoreline has its very own botanic garden? Kruckeberg Botanic Garden is a unique park property with a focus on natural and native gardening that includes ornamental and rare plants. Started as a family home and garden by Art and Mareen Kruckeberg, today it is one of Shoreline's most unique and valuable public properties. Educational opportunities about conservation and the importance of native plants, as well as a place of refuge and contemplation from a hectic world are offered in this four acre wooded sanctuary.

The Garden was purchased in 2008 as part of the 2006 voter-approved bond that allowed Shoreline to purchase new park properties and improve several existing ones. It is owned by the City, but maintained and curated by the Kruckeberg Botanic Garden Foundation. Support from the City's general fund and fundraising efforts of the Foundation provide the resources required to preserve, maintain, and enhance the Garden. Native and non-native plants are propagated and sold from a small onsite nursery and partnerships with local growers provide visitors with unique plant options.

What was once a family home and horticultural playground is now a City treasure with a bright future. Camps and classes for kids and adults, public art pieces, winding trails, and annual events like the Mother's Day Sale and Solstice Stroll offer unique place-making opportunities for the whole community. Efforts are underway to begin planning and designing a Children's Discovery Garden and an ADA boardwalk to make it possible for everyone to visit the lower garden. The Foundation has also begun to evaluate how best to transform the historic home into a functional space for community classes, meetings, and small events.

GREEN RESIDENTIAL BUILDINGS

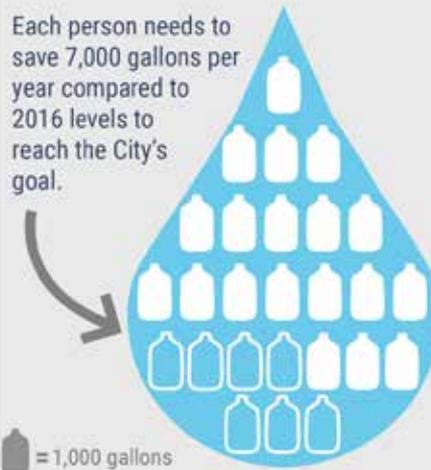

Since 2006, Shoreline has added over 250 green residential units to the community, and aims to grow to over 700 by 2030.

GREEN COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS

There is over 668,000 square feet of certified green commercial space in Shoreline. The City aims to increase this amount by 33% by 2030.

Each person needs to save 7,000 gallons per year compared to 2016 levels to reach the City's goal.

WATER CONSUMPTION

In 2010, the average Shoreline resident used 19,000 gallons of water during the year.

The City's goal is to keep total water use at that 2010 level, even as population increases. That means decreasing water use by 27% in future years.

Items in recycling must be clean and dry

UNTIL THIS YEAR, we shipped most of our recycling to China for processing. Unfortunately, much of it was dirty and wet, which contaminated the other recycled materials such as paper and cardboard. While China accepted this recycling in the past, under a new policy, this will no longer be the case. China's new policy has dramatically lowered acceptable contamination levels. Chinese authorities now open and inspect every load of recycled materials from the U.S. If there is too much contamination, the authorities will reject the load.

King County and regional cities are joining together to develop strategies to resolve the problem. In the meantime, remember to:

- Reduce and reuse
- Recycle empty, clean, and dry materials only
- If in doubt, throw it out!

DID YOU KNOW?

WHEN YOU WASH your car on the street or driveway, all that soapy, dirty water flows untreated down storm drains and into streams, lakes, and Puget Sound, harming wildlife such as salmon, clams, and marine mammals. Even biodegradable soaps cause problems when they enter waterways. Instead, take your car to a commercial wash where they clean and recycle the water or wash your car on the lawn where the water can soak into the ground.

Visit shorelinewa.gov/cleanwater to learn how you can help protect our waterways this summer.

Shoreline aims to become the first Salmon-Safe certified city in Washington

SALMON ARE NOT ONLY an iconic symbol of the Pacific Northwest, they are also a vital part of the Puget Sound ecosystem. Unfortunately, our urban activities often negatively affect the region's watersheds, imperiling the health of Pacific salmon. This year, Shoreline is teaming up with Salmon Safe to ensure we are doing the best we can to maintain healthy watersheds and help protect salmon.

Salmon-Safe is a non-profit organization that works with businesses, governments, and non-profits to certify land management practices that impact agricultural and urban watersheds as being salmon safe. Salmon-Safe conducts on-the-ground assessments of operations and provides guidance for improving programs, facilities, and practices over time.

Salmon-Safe certification will begin with an assessment of our management practices, including irrigation efficiency, stormwater management, pesticide reduction, conservation of native biodiversity, and streamside and wetlands area management. Salmon-Safe will evaluate whether our management is consistent with best management practices for avoiding harm to stream ecosystems.

In 2016, Portland became the first city to be certified as Salmon-Safe. Certifying the City of Shoreline through this program is an opportunity to align our practices with the best available science to improve water quality and habitat health. It is also an opportunity to demonstrate regional leadership and our commitment to environmental stewardship.

By becoming the first Salmon-Safe certified city in Washington State, Shoreline hopes to improve water quality in Shoreline and in Puget Sound and improve habitat health for salmon and other iconic northwest species.

For more information, visit salmonsafe.org or contact Shoreline's Salmon-Safe Project Manager Miranda Redinger at mredinger@shorelinewa.gov or (206) 801-2513.

LIGHT RAIL PROJECT NEIGHBORHOOD MEETING

Wednesday, June 27
6:00 - 8:00 p.m.
Shorewood High School
17300 Fremont Ave N

SOUND TRANSIT will hold a neighborhood meeting on Wednesday, June 27, to provide an update on the Lynnwood Link Extension light rail project expected to open for service in mid-2024. Highlights will include showing crucial changes to the two Shoreline Stations, and to the project over all, resulting from the need to reduce project costs.

The neighborhood meeting is a required part of the City's special use permit application process. It is an important opportunity for you to provide public comment and feedback on the design prior to Sound Transit submitting its application for the special use and construction permits. Sound Transit's project design must meet City requirements and be generally consistent with the City's adopted Guiding Principles for Light Rail Design.

At the meeting, Sound Transit will provide an update on changes to the project since the 60% Open House a year ago. They will also share current design plans for the Shoreline South/145th and Shoreline North/185th Stations and for the corridor between the stations. There will also be an update on the project schedule.

This is an excellent opportunity to speak directly to Sound Transit and City project staff, ask questions, and provide comments on the proposed project.

PLEASE REMEMBER that the sale, possession, use, or discharge of fireworks in the City of Shoreline is illegal. Fireworks pose a fire hazard to property and present a safety risk to those who use them. Shoreline Police enforce the City's year-round fireworks ban.

Social Justice Book Group

THE SHORELINE Social Justice Book Group comes together the second Sunday of every month at the Shoreline Library to discuss books written from diverse perspectives. Books selected focus on the experiences of people of color, people who are LGBTQ, people with disabilities, and other marginalized groups, as well as social issues such as immigration and poverty.

For June, the group will read and discuss the book Where the Line Bleeds, by Jesmyn Ward. It tells the story of African-American twin brothers raised by their blind grandmother on Mississippi's Gulf Coast as they struggle to find work and deal with the reappearance of their parents.

SHORELINE POLICE UPDATE

Shoreline continues to be a safe city

SHORELINE CONTINUES to be a safe community. Over the past three years, Part-1 crime (murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft, motor vehicle theft, and arson) has remained at its lowest level since the City incorporated in 1995. Shoreline's 50 sworn officers and two staff are committed to your safety.

In 2017, we had over 31,000 police related contacts. Officers responded to 16,309 dispatched calls for service, initiated 14,758 contacts, and made 1,426 arrests. Burglaries increased slightly at 2%; however, they were still 14% below the five-year average. Car prowls increased 10% while auto thefts were down 7%. In 2017, detectives arrested and/or charged 31 suspects for burglaries committed in Shoreline. A challenge we continue to face with burglaries is that courts often give non-violent property crime defendants little or no jail time and they quickly end up back on the streets. It is important to take steps to reduce the chances of becoming a victim of a property crime.

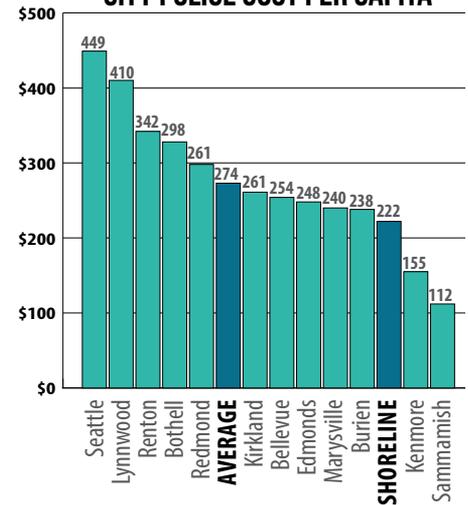

Working with the community to continually build trust is paramount to a fostering a safe community. Shoreline Police depend on you to call 911 immediately when you notice suspicious activity in your neighborhood. Let them check to determine if it is legitimate business or a crime in progress.

Shoreline Police follow LEED principals - Listen and Explain with Equity and Dignity. They pride themselves on striving to be fair and objective in all their interactions with the community. In communities across the nation, public trust in police is strained. This makes it essential that police build relationships with all members of the community to better understand their issues and concerns. Shoreline Police continue to reach out to the community through Nurturing Trust workshops and meeting with different community groups, especially those representing traditionally marginalized communities.

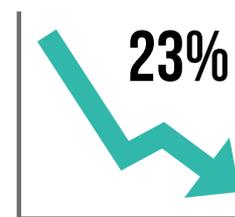

Shoreline Police work hard to support the City Council's goal for public safety. Over the next year, they will continue to focus on property crime and crime prevention. Last year Community Outreach Officer Paula Bates conducted 76 community meetings that focused on crime prevention. For more information on Shoreline Watch, crime prevention, and/or a home security analysis, contact Officer Paula Bates at paula.bates@kingcounty.gov or (206) 801-2764.

Incidences of larceny are 16% lower than in 2013. Examples of larceny include thefts of bicycles, car parts, shoplifting, pick-pocketing.

SHORELINE POLICE UPDATE

Mental Health Navigator and Police RADAR program - Response, Awareness, De-escalation And Referral

FOR THE PAST YEAR, a mental health navigator has worked alongside Shoreline Police to help connect individuals with behavioral health and/or developmental disability (BH/DD) issues to existing services and treatment. As part of the Response Awareness De-Escalation and Referral (RADAR) program, the mental health navigator has become an integral part in police interaction with people with BH/DD issues with the goal to reduce the use-of-force on individuals involved.

RADAR is an effort by the Shoreline Police Department to address the rights and needs of individuals with BH/DD. Its purpose is to decrease use-of-force incidents between police and individuals with BH/DD and to reduce the repeated and inappropriate use of emergency services. It uses community-policing strategies to achieve these objectives.

Mental health and suicide attempt calls for service make up about 3.5% of all calls in Shoreline, but this doesn't take into account other types of calls (like trespassing, assault, disturbances) that may also have a mental health component. Officers spend about 25% more time dealing with mental health-related calls compared to other types of calls, representing an additional 125 more officer-hours per year. Shoreline officers report that encountering people with a behavioral health issue is extremely common, happening every day or several times a week. Ninety percent of officers who responded to a department-wide survey said they had used force in an encounter with an individual with BH/DD in the past. Officers believe the RADAR program has given them more access to information about residents with BH/DD issues and that they have a better understanding of how to connect them with services.

The mental health navigator, in collaboration with the Shoreline Police, contacted a total of 143 individuals between January 1, 2017 and March 12, 2018. Below are some stats gleaned from those contacts:

- The highest user had 25 contacts with the Navigator and/or police department. Another service user had 8 contacts, while three had 7 contacts. The other 138 individuals had less than seven contacts each.
- The most common type of situation (34% of individuals contacted) involved behavioral health or medical issues, including paranoia, delusions, schizophrenia, dementia/Alzheimer's, traumatic brain injury etc.
- 24% of individuals contacted were experiencing mental health issues, such as depression or suicidal behavior. Some of these cases were related to alcohol or drug use.
- 11% of individuals contacted were intoxicated (alcohol or drugs).
- 10% of individuals contacted had school-related issues.
- 8% of individuals were contacted for crime-related reasons, including domestic violence and assault. The majority of these individuals were victims rather than suspects.
- 83% of individuals contacted agreed to accept resources/assistance.

- 14% of cases involved continued officer/Navigator outreach.

RADAR encourages the building of relationships between police and the populations they serve and the sharing of information amongst first responders to allow a more effective and safe response during a time of crisis. Through communication and collaborative planning, RADAR seeks to reduce use of force incidents engendered by fear or misunderstanding. It is a pilot program funded by the United States Department of Justice through the Bureau of Justice Assistance Smart Policing Initiative. The program went into effect January 1, 2017.

RADAR Goals:

- Develop individualized de-escalation strategies to reduce police use-of-force incidents during encounters with people with BH/DD.
- Collaborate with a mental health professional (RADAR Navigator) to connect individuals with BH/DD to existing services and treatment.
- Reduce repeat encounters with first responders and increase the effectiveness of police responses.
- Create cost effective community-policing strategies and promote increased collaboration between deputies, persons with BH/DD, caregivers, and families.

Prevent Package theft

WITH MORE people shopping online, opportunities for package theft have increased substantially. The best way to avoid having your package stolen is to take a few precautions.

- If you have a neighbor that you know stays home, ask them to keep an eye out for your package. Have them pick it up when it arrives.
- Track your package online so you know exactly when it will be there. Many carriers offer text alerts for package delivery.
- Have high dollar value items require a signature.
- Make use of alternate, controlled, delivery sites or lockers if possible. Amazon offers their Amazon Locker locations that are all over the greater Puget Sound region. Fed-Ex and UPS both offer package re-direction, alternate address delivery, or in store pick-up (UPS locations).
- If you are the one staying home or work from home, watch out for your neighbors' packages. Be alert, and call 911 if you see a suspicious person or car taking packages.

One of the single most important ways to reduce crime in your neighborhood is to know your neighbors and watch out for each other. Shoreline Police encourage you to start a Shoreline Watch group to bring your neighbors together and promote safety and communication.
